IMBA EUROPE REVIEW

Trail tools come in all sorts and sizes. IMBA Europe have tested the tool for a year on different trail surfaces, from light to heavy-duty work. Our experience is that the tool is really good for shaping and finishing trails and day to day maintenance work. We were surprised by the durability. The powder coating helps to prevent corrosion, something we sometimes see with other trail tools after heavy usage.

The Builder's Shape Tool is designed for five work processes, combining a rake, axe, shaper, tamper and pick all in one. We're going to be honest, we won't get rid of all other trail tools immediately because this tool also made a few compromises. For heavy rock work, a Pulaski will give you more power and for packing the trail surface, a McLeod gives you a bit extra square centimeters. But if we are out for a long day of trail work in a remote place, then you will feel the benefit of a multi tool that has less weight than most other trail tools, let alone when you have to bring 2-3 separate tools to do the same job. Quick, easy, comfortable and strong. An asset for everyone's tool collection.
